CHILDREN

Foundation for Child Development

Changing Faces of America's Children - Young Scholars Program

Program: The Foundation for Child Development is soliciting research proposals on the development of immigrant children from birth to age ten, particularly those who are living in low-income families. The Foundation is particularly interested in research that can inform policies regarding the health and education needs of young newcomer children. Proposals may include research designs for an empirical study, pilot work for a larger scale research project that will seek funding from other public and private funders, or analysis of data previously collected.

Funds: Average grant size: $150,000
Number of awards: three to four

Deadline: October 1, 2003

Eligible: Applicants must: have earned their Ph.D. within the past ten years or have completed the residency program for their M.D.s within the past five years; hold a Ph.D. or its equivalent in one of the behavioral and social sciences or in an allied professional field, such as public policy, public health, education, social work, nursing, and medicine; not have received tenure and hold a position as a full-time, tenure-track faculty member of an American college or university located in the United States; and be United States citizens, permanent residents, or international scholars who are affiliated with an American academic institution during the duration of the award.

U.S. Department of Health and Human Services

Health Resources and Services Administration

AIDS Education and Training Centers, National Evaluation Center Cooperative Agreement

Program: The Health Resources and Services Administration's HIV/AIDS Bureau is accepting applications for fiscal year 2004 awards for a cooperative agreement to support the AIDS Education and Training Centers' (AETCs) National Evaluation Center (NEC). The NEC will provide evaluation services and support to the network of regional and national AETCs. The purpose of the NEC is to develop, test, and disseminate methods and models for evaluating the impact of clinical education and training on provider behavior and clinical practice, with respect to changes in knowledge and skills, clinical practice behavior, and clinical outcomes. The purpose of the regional and national AIDS Education and Training Centers (AETCs) is to improve the quality and enhance the availability of high quality HIV/AIDS clinical care through the training of health care professionals and to prioritize the clinical support and training needs of direct medical care providers, including physicians, nurses, physician's assistants, advance practice nurses, pharmacists, and oral health providers. The AETCs conduct assessments of regional HIV/AIDS care delivery systems and develop innovative programs to build HIV/AIDS care capacity to fill identified gaps. The AETCs target clinical providers caring for communities of color and populations disproportionately affected by the HIV/AIDS virus, particularly providers and those associated with Ryan White Comprehensive AIDS Resources Emergency Act supported facilities.

The Michael J. Fox Foundation Parkinson Disease Research Grants

Program: The Michael J. Fox Foundation for Parkinson's Research announces the launch of Community Fast Track 2003, a grant program supported by the foundation and Parkinson's organizations, including the Parkinson's Disease Foundation and Parkinson's Unity Walk/The Parkinson Alliance. Under this program, researchers are invited to submit investigator-initiated grant applications to conduct research relevant to the cure, cause, prevention or improved treatment of Parkinson's disease and its complications. The intent of this request for applications is to stimulate novel, innovative, and high-impact approaches to the field of Parkinson's disease, as well as to fill funding gaps missed by more conventional funding sources. The foundation has placed an emphasis on supporting cutting-edge research while reducing the administrative burden for researchers applying for funding, employing an expedited, abbreviated granting mechanism to accelerate discoveries and hopefully translate findings more quickly to patients.

Funds: Total funds available: $4 million

Deadline: September 25, 2003

Eligible: Scientists and researchers in the field of Parkinson's Disease

Information: Deborah W. Brooks, Executive Director, The Michael J. Fox Foundation for Parkinson's Research, Grand Central Station, P.O. Box 4777, New York, NY 10163, E-mail: research@michaeljfox.org, Link: www.michaeljfox.org/research/fundingopps.php?id=30

U.S. Department of Housing and Urban Development
Revitalization of Severely Distressed Public Housing, HOPE VI Revitalization Grants
Neighborhood Networks Enhancement Grants

Program: This Department of Housing and Urban Development has funding available to expand the Neighborhood Networks program under the FY 2002 HOPE VI Revitalization Grant Program. Grantees from the FY 2002 HOPE VI grant program are building Neighborhood Network Centers (NNCs) and developing Neighborhood Networks programs as part of their revitalization plans. HOPE VI funds can be used for the construction of Neighborhood Network Centers, computer and information technology hardware, staffing, and services. The Neighborhood Networks Enhancement Grants will provide additional funding to HOPE VI grantees to accelerate and optimize the development of their NNCs as focal points for innovative information technology programs and supportive service delivery through digital technologies. NNCs provide computer and Internet access to public housing residents and offer a full range of supportive services. Applicants should submit proposals that will:

- Provide job training;
- Reduce welfare dependency;
- Promote economic self-sufficiency;
- Increase the use of computer technology;
- Expand educational opportunities for residents;
- Develop access to health and nutrition information; and
- Meet other needs of residents.

A NNC may be existing or new. This program provides grants to qualified Public Housing Agencies to update, maintain, and expand existing Neighborhood Networks and community technology centers or establish new NNCs. Proposed grant activities must build on the foundation created or planned under the original HOPE VI applications.

Funds: Total funds available: $5 million
Grant size: $180,000

Deadline: September 12, 2003

Eligible: Public Housing Agencies that are awardees of HOPE VI Revitalization Grants, awarded under the Notice of Funding Availability for Revitalization of Severely Distressed Public Housing HOPE VI Revitalization Grants for FY 2002.

FOUNDATION PROFILE

Boston Globe Foundation

Community Grants

- Program: The primary mission of the Boston Globe Foundation is to assist the next generation to become educated, employable, and responsible citizens. The foundation funds programs that build youth leadership, support education, and forge friendships across racial, cultural, and neighborhood boundaries. Established in 1982, the Boston Globe Foundation supports a range of services and programs that address the needs of youth and the community, including public education and literacy, youth development, out-of-school, and skills-building programs, and arts and culture. The Globe Foundation accepts grant proposals for both program and operating support, with preference given to program support.
- Funds: Total funds awarded: $1 million to $2 million annually
Grant size: minimum of $5,000
- Deadline: Grant decisions are made twice each year, in April and September. The deadline for grant applications for the September approval period is June 30 and the deadline for the April approval period is December 1.
- Eligible: Not-for-profit organizations in the greater Boston area.
