PLANNING FOR YOUR PARK'S FUTURE

The Boston Parks and Recreation Department has prepared a draft version of our city wide Open Space Plan.

Comments

The Boston Parks and Recreation Department has released the draft Open Space Plan online to get input from Boston residents on what they want to see in their local parks.

The draft plan is available online at www.cityofboston.gov/parks/ .

Copies of the draft plan are also available at local library branches.

Please contribute your input: Help the City better serve the need for greener, more useful open space in the years ahead.

Comment period ends December 9, 2007.
